

Cross Reference Guide for Promethean Resources

Most of the resources that were available in Promethean’s ActivStudio software are still available in Promethean’s ActivInspire software. However, those resources may be housed in a different folder in the ActivInspire Resource Browser. In other words, there is a change in the pathway that is used to locate the resource as a user migrates from ActivStudio to ActivInspire.

The table below should point out the new pathways that allow you to find the resources you need within ActivInspire. The left column of the table illustrates that pathway to find the resource in ActivStudio. The right column of the table shows where the resource has been moved in ActivInspire. Please note, some low-resolution images and activities have been removed from ActivInspire altogether.
