

"Dear Adams Community,

My name is Rob Styron and I am the new Talented Music Teacher at Adams. I have been assigned to your school to work with individual and small groups of students to determine interest in the Talented Music Program. I will begin pre-screenings on October 31 and will continue throughout the year on Thursdays. If your student possesses a musical talent, please take a moment to read the following questions.

Does your student show interest and is eager to participate in musical activities? Does your student enjoy musical activities including singing? Does your student respond to music through body movement? Does your student play one or more musical instrument(s) or express the desire to do so? Does your student demonstrate a high level of concentration for a sustained period of time? Is your student recognized by peers as talented in music?

If you answered yes to the above questions, contact me via email at robert.styron@jpschools.org and provide the following information in the body of the email. I will then reach out to your student and work with them directly at school and follow up with you.
